Hi,

Thank you for your e-mail.

I have had the opportunity to review your questionnaire. I find the questions to be topical and they may become issues of discussion at our board.

To respond to your questions I believe schools should focus on academics. I have worked in Catholic Boards through my career as an educator. I feel passionately about representing the community, so much so that if elected I must resign my current position as an Educator with the ALCDSB. I've been a member of my church community since birth and have raised my son as a Catholic and person of faith.

My campaign is that I believe education should be rooted in community. If there are any contentious issues brought to the board, there should be community consultation and a transparent open dialogue. Based on the majority of our community is how education should be guided.

Hopefully I have your vote.

If elected as trustee. I would ensure that the community voices, including your own are heard and represented.

Thank you again for your email.
